The most conspicuous object in the eastern heavens these September nights since Mars has shaken the dust of the earth off his feet, as it were, and started off at a two mile gait for a flirtation with some other sphere, is the most astute but intensely brilliant planet Jupiter. Jupiter like Mars, carries a harem of moons along with him, but he is half so shy about it as his blood-thirsty little brother seems to be. Until a few years ago even the astronomer suspected Mars of possessing moons, and they can now be seen only through big telescopes. But Jupiter's satellites are almost visible to the naked eye. They can be readily seen with the aid of a looking-glass held perfectly still.

THE BIG STORE.

Everything is in readiness for the Fall and Winter Season.

Purchasers are cordially invited to call early and inspect our offerings, consisting of an enormous assortment of Woolen Goods of every description for men, women and children. Foreign and domestic manufacturers have been very successful in giving originality to the styles and colors. Our stock will be found exceedingly attractive and handsome throughout. It has been our especial pleasure to see the different departments of the store expand in business and exhibit a larger display of goods from season to season. The stock for the fall of 1892 exceeds all previous offerings in variety and attractiveness, and we have every confidence in believing that our trade this fall will eclipse anything that has gone before it.

It would be useless for us to attempt the enumeration of the different lines carried by us. Sufficient it will be to say that we are placing at the disposal of buyers an assortment of

Fancy and Staple Dry Goods,
Ready-made Clothing,
Fine Manufactured Clothing,
Gentlemen's Furnishing Goods,
Boots, Shoes and Rubbers,

Miss Pauline Johnson, the poet reciter, at the Methodist church, Thursday evening, Oct. 27th.

A large number of teams were on the market with a handsome lot of produce on Tuesday.

A bunch of keys have been lost and the finder will confer a favor if they leave them at this office.

Mr. A. Vandusen has sold about one hundred of the National Washers, of which he is agent in Deseronto.

One hundred and nineteen men have been killed on the construction of the exhibition building at Chicago.

Rural Dean Baker conducted a harvest thanksgiving service at Christ's church, Lillier, on Thursday of last week.

Some parties entered the boat house of Mr. Wm. Jamieson and stole his nets that he was about to set for his fall catch of fish.

Mr. N. Hudgins is buying apples in this vicinity. Parties can leave word at the Oriental hotel if they desire Mr. Hudgins to call on them.

Albert Caughlin fell while at school last week and fracturing his right arm and dislocating the elbow. Dr. Newton reduced the fracture.

A sailor from the schooner Annie Falcon fell off the dock last Saturday. He was rescued without much difficulty. The wetting seemed to be beneficial.

Mr. George Gordon has taken a position at the Napanee Cement Works, having charge of the motion power and mechanical department of that growing business.

The cheese market in England is steadily improving. The shipment from Montreal this season has been 1,165,908 boxes, an increase of 162,160 over the same time last year.

The Stirling Nova-Argus is exercised because we published an item saying that their "High School grounds were growing up wild." We did not mean to infer that they were no scholars or in any way to infer that their schools was an inferior one. It was simply to show that their board of trustees were not making the grounds look attractive. The school is flourishing and the trustees seem to be behind the time according to the Nova-Argus.

MARINE NOTES.

The river route.

The steamer Alexandria passed down on Sunday morning, heavily loaded, having a large shipment of canned goods from Trenton and Belleville.

The steamer Kippie has laid up for the season.

The tug Rescue brought down seven crabs of cedar in the last tow from Trenton. The towing this point is about over for the season.

Mr. Tobias Butler, the popular purser of steamer Ella Ross, has returned to Kingston to resume his studies at Queen's college.

Shipping is quite active on the bay at present, as the season of navigation is nearing its close.

Mr. Hugh Walker, of Belleville, is now purser on the Ella Ross.

The boat containing four sailors sent to throw an anchor to a stranded steamer, Lake Winnipeg was upset. Three of the men were drowned.

A meeting of the business men at the office of Gaylord, Dowling & Co. on Tuesday the Canal Improvement Union of Oswego was organized. The object of the organization is to look after the State canal and to urge upon the Legislature the necessity of keeping in good repair and improving these waterways.

In Boston there is anxiety regarding the fate of Captiva W. Lawler, who sailed from there June 5th last in a twelve foot canvas boat for a trip across the ocean. His wife received a letter from him at North Sydney, C.B., July 30. A few weeks later he was spoken by a vessel near St. Pierre. That is the last information received as to his whereabouts.

A contract has been given to the Hamilton Bridge Company, by the Niagara Navigation Co., the owners of the Tibola and Chicora, for a steel steamer 311 feet long and capable of carrying 2,200 people. The cost will be $200,000.

The steamer Columbus arrived in Kingston harbour Saturday, and is now at the U. R. dock, where she will be laid up for this winter. William Power has suggested the idea of having the wheels placed in her bow, and has drawn up a plan for the company, but it is not probable that his scheme will be adopted.

The steamer Western Reserve, broken in a short time ago on Lake Superior, was one of the largest ore carriers on the lakes. The owner and family with a crew of twenty-two persons were drowned.

The steamer Algerine and Spartan have gone into winter quarters at Montreal.

The steamer Compagnie, enroute for Chicago took on a cargo of 105 tons of tea at Toronto.

The steamer Chicora, Mescon and Empress of India made their last trips Saturday.

The Allan line steamship Carthagénien is aground in Lake St. Peter. No injury is expected.

A panic was created on board the Elmalie at Cobalt, N. Y., last week by reason of the steamer running on a bed of rock. The 400 passengers on board were all landed safely. Many jumped overboard and swam to land.

The steamer Premier of the Canadian Pacific Navigation Company was struck by the steamer Williamette, in a dense fog, ten miles south of Port Townsend, Wash., last Thursday. Two persons were killed. Assistance was secured and all of the passengers taken off. The boats were so tightly wedged together that they had to be propelled together when they were beached. The resulting tide left both boats stranded and still interlocked.

It does its work quickly and thoroughly. It is the best and cheapest and the world cannot beat it or match it. If you have a cold and sore throat, try it. The Great Cough Mixture at W. E. Kerr's.

WONDERFUL RESULTS

FOLLOW THE USE OF SALVATOR MAGNUS IN LUNG TROUBLE.

THE REMARKABLE CURE EFFECTED IN THE CASE OF STEPHEN H. ANDREWS—HIS LUNGS WERE COMPLETELY FILLED UP—A SHORT COURSE WITH THIS GREAT REMEDY RELIEVED HIM.

Scarcely a day passes but one hears of new cases of remarkable cures effected by the use of that greatest known remedy for lung and throat troubles, Salvator Magnus. The wonderful cure brought about in the case of Mrs. W. H. Brouck, of this town, has attracted wide spread attention, and the great medicine which restored her to health after all other remedies had failed is the subject of a great deal of talk. It is certainly very gratifying to the people of Brockville to know that a medicine of such merit should ally the sufferer—Stephens H. Andrews. Accidents of another case in which a young man was restored to health by its use. The representative happened to be talking to Mrs. Andrews, wife of Capt. Andrews, Church street, when the conversation turned upon the subject of proprietary medicines. She said there was a time when she had very little faith in advertised remedies, but she had reason to change her mind regarding one anyway. Being asked what that one was, she replied that it was Salvator Magnus. The doctor's curative was aroused and in answer to further inquiries Mrs. Andrews stated that in the spring of 1884 her son, Stephen H. Andrews, was severely ill with organ building in L. J. Massell's factory here. He was 16 years of age at that time. The dust from the woodworking machinery was in the air. They were almost completely stifled up. He coughed a great deal and raised large quantities of solid tubercular matter, the lungs were so filled that one could hardly hear the air passing through them. His voice was husky and wheezing—in fact his natural voice was gone almost entirely. He became very anxious about him, and called in the best of medical skill. The doctor recommended Salvator Magnus. His previous experience with the remedy had thoroughly convinced him of its excellence in lung troubles. My son had quit work at that time. After using the Magnum four or five weeks he had completely recovered his voice, his cough was much easier and the only thing that troubled him was a little shortness of breath at times. He was anxious to leave his home and get a change of air. It was not long until his lungs filled up again. He returned to the use of the Magnum and again recovered. He went back to work again. The doctor that advised him, and the suggestion of the physician got work in another part of the building away from the dust. He kept on taking the Magnum now and then until he felt the trade, after which he went to Listowel to work as a journeyman. He took a bottle of Salvator Magnus with him in case the trouble should return but he never had occasion to use it. He has enjoyed best of health since. He is now working at his trade of organ building in New York city, and never had a sign of lung trouble. I attribute his recovery to health entirely to the use of Salvator Magnus, and believe that if it had not been for that medicine he would not have been alive to-day.

A deep interest was created by Mrs. Andrews' statements, so much so that the Time man went at once and interviewed the physician who had attended young Andrews and he corroborated in every particular what she had said. He said he had recommended the use of Salvator Magnus. He had used it several times before and always with satisfactory results. He said that he had considered it the foremost medicine of the day for lung trouble, consumption, etc.

The medicine is manufactured by the Salvator Medicine Co., of Brockville, Ontario, or Morristown, N. Y., who also manufacture that unrivalled cough mixture, Magnum Expectant and the Magnum Life Lotion. These remedies are for sale by all respectable drug stores—Brockville Times.

Mrs. Sheppard, a lady lecturing against Roman Catholicism had read the town hall at Brockville and was refused admittance.

Who is Morgans?

Hells! You fellow there! Don't go humping about as if your back was breaking. Go off at once and get a bottle of Magnum Life Lotion. Use it according to directions and you will walk as straight as any body in 24 hours. Go along with you to W. G. Eggar's.

AT "CHEAPSIDE"

THE DISPLAY OF

DRY GOODS, MILLINERY, CLOTHS, TWEEDS, CARPETS, FURS, ETC., IS THE LARGEST EVER SEEN OUTSIDE OF THE LARGEST CITIES.

We have been deluged with compliments. That our efforts at our opening were appreciated was more than evidenced by the large sales made throughout the house, being by far the largest we have ever had for this time of year. People are not so slow to find the best place, for the best values, and every day now is a busy one.

Never in 20 years have we been so strong in every department, very special care having been exercised in the selection of just the class of goods our patrons want.

Our LADIES' UNDERCLOTHING is bought from a celebrated German manufacturer, made soft and warm with a special view to overcome the prejudice delicate ladies entertain for the ordinary rough picky wool.

Our HOSE and GLOVES are made to order, and our ranges of makes is sure of supplying every person's taste or purpose.

There is the 15 cents WOOL HOSE, which eclipses them all. The better qualities at 20 and 25 cents, still heavier, and the soft CASHMERE HOSE from 25 to 60 cents a pair, to fit stout, medium or slender ladies.

There is the RIBBED HOSE, made specially for romping children, with double knees and heels.

There are the CASHMERE GLOVES made to our order with kid ends on the fingers, and Double Cashmere Tips, all with a view to durability and to give you the worth of your money.

You will find that for months ahead we have been thinking of you, and planning for you, and all we expect is your encouragement and support, your "well done" will help us, and your liberal purchases will encourage us to renewed effort.

We are proud of our DRESS GOODS display, and the people are showing what they think of it by the parcels we are sending out. Never so busy before in Dress Goods. Never had so much to show you before and never could sell so cheaply as now.

CLOTHS, TWEEDS AND OVERCOATINGS. A grand range to choose from and our tailors are busy at order. Our motto in this department is "Fit fits and finish, good reliable goods and close prices," and that's what "fetches" the trade every time.

Our FURS—Need we mention them after what you saw at the County Fair and on Opening Day. Surely you will say in the language of a gentleman who looked in our Fur Room on opening day, and what you can see every day, after drawing a long sigh, "beats all." Yes, it beats everybody. Ahead of all fair competition. Our advice—Buy FURS Early. Don't forget our advice, they are sure to be higher later in the season because they cannot be imported again this year, owing to the "Cholera Scare."

LOMSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The farmers in this section of the country are digging their potatoes and report a good many rotten ones.

Mrs. (Rev.) McDonald is very sick with low fever.

Two weddings passed through here in one day this week.

Mrs. McKee has returned home from Deseronto where she has been spending a few days visiting friends.

The citizens of our village are disturbed every night with a band of young rowdies ranging from six to seventeen years, sorry to say belonging to our own village. If not attended to by the parents law will have to be put in force. This is no idle threat.

MARYSVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. A. Campbell is attending court at Belleville, he being one of the jurymen.

Miss Johnson has spent Sunday at home.

Mr. P. Hopkins spent Sunday at home in Erinville.

Mr. M. Roach, of York, is renewing old acquaintances here.

Mr. P. McAlpine was in Erinville on Sunday.

E. Welch's grain elevator is nearing completion, it will be one of the largest buildings of the kind in this part of the country.

Mr. H. Brennan's horse got frightened at some bicyclists passing last Saturday and ran away breaking the buggy and harness and cutting the horse in several places. Luckily there was no one in the rig at the time.

TYNOMINGA RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Andrew Maracle has finished threshing for the season. There have been many steamers on the Reservoir yet Andrew has had a fair proportion of patronage.

Walter A. J. van der Meer is progressing rapidly under the hammer and saw of our experienced carpenter George Maracle.

Mrs. Aull, a worshipper in by gone days at Christ Church, was buried in its cemetery on Wednesday last.

Joseph Picard has been solicited to engage twenty-five men for the Georgian Bay lumber camps near Coldwater and will succeed in getting them.

Joseph Maracle, Jr., is about to return to his father's place near Lake Umbagog.

Mr. Abraham Baptiste, who had been ill for several months with consumption, died on Tuesday evening. She was buried at All Saints Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

Fishing has not been a success this season. The Missionary and Mrs. Anderson drove out to Selby on Tuesday and spent the day at the comfortable parsonage of that town.

Thomas Blanchard of the west end is making extensive additions to his outbuildings.

Although late we were able to congratulate the Editor of THE TRIBUNE and his bride. As they travel through life together may they live long on the road.

The weather is still very favorable on the Reserve just now.

Hickory nut crop is a complete failure this season.

MARINE NOTES.

The steamer Princess Louise was towed from Collins Bay, and will be docked at Davis dry dock, Kingston, for repairs.

The last shipment of stone for the season has been made from Kelley's Island for the Saint Catharines. Over 14,000 cubic yards, making fifty-five cargoes, have been sent up.

Capt. Foote, of the steamer United Empire, has the distinction of bringing the first Canadian vessel through the Saint Lawrence. Capt. Foote's vessel was the first to pass the range lights here since the new range lights have been placed.

The steamer E. C. Pope is chartered for 125,000 bushels of wheat from South Chicago. This is the largest grain cargo ever carried on the lake.

The City of Paris, Indian Line, made the trip from Queenstown to New York in 5 days, 14 hours and 24 minutes, the fastest time on record.

The whalboat steamer Samuel Mather, Capt. John H. Smith, left Chicago on the night of Oct. 20th with 110,000 bushels of corn for Buffalo. Capt. Smith pronounced her an excellent boat in heavy weather and very speedy.

The whalboat steamer Mather brought 5,500 bushels of corn from Chicago. A Chicago paper had it that the Thomas Wilson which is of the same build, could outcarry the Mather, but Capt. Smith declares the Mather is a good ship for 1,500 bushels more than the Wilson.

The Ogdensburg Transit Company will replace its three wooden steamers, W. A. Haskell, Walter E. Frost and W. J. Aver, with new steel propelled, and it is now in the hands of the Detroit Dock Company to build them. The contract will amount to $100,000 or $200,000 for each boat.

The new whalboat steamer, James Colgate, recently launched at the Thomas Wilson which is of the same build, could outcarry the Mather, but Capt. Smith declares the Mather is a good ship for 1,500 bushels more than the Wilson.

Bearinger & Shibley's big raft of 9,000,000 feet of lumber on Lake Huron, the largest northeast of last week, by the tug Sea Gull, Smith and Parker, is the record tonnage of the lake, and if loaded on large full rigged power ship, would take about six months to carry it. This represents the greatest economy of floating transportation, only possible on large sheets of protected waterways like the lake and St. Lawrence.

Relative to the complete navigation through Canadian territory to the Gulf of St. Lawrence it is interesting to note that last week the Calvin Company's raft No. 15, in tow of the tugboat, Captain Ephraim Martin, passed down the Canadian channel, skirting Fiddler's Elbow, passing north of Grand Island, and continuing on to the mouth of the river without leaving Canadian waters. This has an interesting bearing on the recent discussion regarding the navigability of the Channel mentioned.

Many handsome steam yachts already had from the several important lake ports, and Detroit has just added to her former fleet a new Herrschel built craft, named the Trust, built to the order of Truman H. Newberry, and of the following general dimensions: 130 feet over all, 165 feet on water line, 17 feet beam, and six feet draft of water. The yacht made the passage from Detroit, R.I. in good time, and proved herself an excellent sea boat, as well as affording all modern conveniences as a family cruising yacht. The Trust is a valuable addition to Detroit's fancy tonnage.

The improvements which have been effected in sailing ships during the past ten years have resulted not only in great economy in working, but also in comfort to the crews. This is very strikingly exemplified by the large cargo carrying boats, comparatively small crews. One of the most completely equipped sailing ships built in England is the James Kerr, of Liverpool, which has just sailed for Calcutta. The vessel is of steel, and is about 3,000 tons dead weight. She is rigged as a four-masted barque. All the rigging is of steel, and there are double topgallant and topmast yards. The yards on all three masts are of the same relative size, so that a square topgallant sail can be bent on either the fore, main or mizzen topgallant yard. Another feature is the employment of small capstans of a very ingenious make, whereby the heavy topgallant yards, weighing some four tons apiece, can be hoisted by five men in about ten or eleven minutes. Formerly setting the topgallants required all hands at the halyards. Now it only takes one third of the watch on deck. These capstans are not worked by handspikes, but are turned by which in pulleys; they have a fast and slow speed corresponding to a greater or less power exerted.

What has for some time past been admitted by the most advanced ship builders, viz., the superiority of screw propulsion over side wheels in deep water propulsion, has just been fully demonstrated over a 50 mile course. The steamer of the River line recently sent a challenge to the New Haven line to test the speed of their fast boats. The challenge was accepted, and it was decided the race should be between a point near Stratford Shoals and Fort Schuyler, a distance of 50 miles. The boats were placed on start and stern, and the first fifteen minutes neither seemed to gain an inch on the other. Finally the Richard Peck began to slowly go ahead. Gradually the distance between the two boats increased, and at last the Puritan was left astern. The Richard Peck gained a mile and a half on the other. The Puritan, the fastest of the line, one of the largest floating wood pulp carriers, and the Richard Peck is the first steam boat to go in service on the Sound. She was built on the Delaware and has been in service a month. The race was considered a fair test between the different systems of marine machinery and the relative qualities of the compound beam engine that goes with side wheels and the modern triple expansion engine that drives the twin screw propeller.

Morgans is coming. A new assortment of well selected popular books at The Tribune office.

TENNYSO.

For THE TRIBUNE. All dreamless now, the poet sleeps, His laurels laid aside; In gentle sorrow, England weeps, Her loved one and her pride.

Not the burning sun at noon, Nor the tempest fierce and strong; Not the stately moon doth glide, And summer winds, his song.

No passion driven soul on fire, No strange, uncanny lays; But smiling seas and nature's choir, And dew-drops on Arthur's days.

We see sweet maid and belted knight, We hear the sobbing winds at night, Round ancient castle blow.

The sunlit lake, the winding stream, The school of the deep, And kindly words with magic gleam, Unsullied honor keep.

As peacefully the moonbeams fell, And autumn's breeze sighed, The watching world was lulled, When England's laureate died.

October, 1892.

EXPERIMENTAL FORESTRY.

What is being done in Manitoba and the Northwest Territories.

Besides distributing the foreign trees last year, arrangements were made through the Manitoba and Northwest branch farms whereby a large quantity of the different kinds of native trees seeds were collected and shipped to Ottawa for distributing purposes. Out of these there were sent 69 packages of oak (acorns) to the Northwest Territories, 304 packages of black cherry seed, 707 packages each of box, elder and ash seed. The Northwest received about an equal number of packages, making a total of 2,408 packages. With each package of seeds as well as with each of forest trees, a circular was mailed giving instructions for planting, cultivating and after care. I might say that this work of distributing forest trees is only following up a line of experiment inaugurated a year before; so that we now have two years experience on the same work. So far two facts are clearly demonstrated: 1. That it is best to begin with the native trees of the country such as box elder and green ash; 2. That under the shelter of these, other varieties not so vigorous and less hardy as they may be grown with comparative ease.

The effects of forestry on the climate of a country are nearly all beneficial; such as more equal distribution of rainfall. This is one of the most important points to be considered; another is the regulation of the temperature, by the influence of the trees in a measure of extremes, the possibilities of a sudden rise or fall in the temperature—changes so frequent in prairie districts—may be lessened. Then again evaporation from the soil is very much reduced. There is a vast difference between the condition on the surface of the bare and uncultivated soil, and the soil on the forest floor. A forest floor serves the purpose of a sponge in collecting and holding the moisture which comes down in the form of rain. The fine root system of the trees assists in drawing up moisture from below. As the rain falls it collects around within these forest counters which hold and give it up gradually, thus obviating spring torrents and summer freshets. Another important point which has not been sufficiently emphasized in connection with forest influence is the prevention of the strong force of the winds, with their great evaporating power. The evaporating power of the wind is generally in direct proportion to its velocity. The greater the velocity the stronger its evaporating power. Thus we can see the value of shelter belts. The more protection we have, in the way of shelter belts the less sweeping winds we have, and the moisture is taken less rapidly from the soil. There is no doubt that as soon as we can get in the Northwest a sweeping sufficient amount of forest area to mitigate to some extent the force of the winds, we will have a much less rapid evaporation and much more favorable conditions for fruit culture and agricultural operations generally. —Horticulturist Dominion Experimental Farms.

Russian Apricots.

The Russian Apricots, as a class—and they do not appear to differ much in variety as far as tested here seem to rank in hardness with the Lombard plum. The trees lost several inches of young wood last winter, and also show evidence of injury to the stems. Alexis and Catherine appear to be most promising. They have good foliage and are vigorous growers. The soil and treatment depend somewhat on the stocks upon which these apricots are worked. They are doing well in many places on sandy loam, which tends to hasten maturing of the wood in the autumn.

In advance of more extended tests, it would not be safe to call them a valuable acquisition. I do not think they will be grown to any extent in peach-growing districts, and it is questionable if they are sufficiently hardy to do well north of the peach line. They had and graft readily on the myrobalan and American plum. The latter, on account of its hardness, I consider the most desirable stock. Grafts on this have made a growth of from two to three feet since spring, when they were set out. Until these varieties become more thoroughly tested, apricot growers will show wisdom by planting them sparingly. —Horticulturist Experimental Farms.

The Uses of Honey.

A writer of the Horticultural Times expresses surprise that honey is so seldom used on the tables of the people of this country. Honey is at once a valuable medicine and food. Foul air, improper ventilation, sudden changes of weather, the exposure of lungs and throat to a damp atmosphere are the source of no end of throat and bronchial troubles. A free, regular, and constant use of honey is probably the best medicine for throat troubles there is. It is a most wholesome and economical substitute for butter, being, as a rule, half the price of that article. Honey is of more service in our cooking than most people imagine. Those who indulge in a glass of grog and hot water on cold winter nights should try the effects of a spoonful of honey instead of sugar. The change will surprise them. Honey may, indeed, replace either in the making of the cooking of almost any article of food. In rice puddings the writer invariably uses honey instead of sugar; the flavor is much more delicious. For preserving most kinds of fruit, honey is far preferable to sugar, as it has the quality of preserving for a long time in a fresh state anything that may be laid in it or mixed with it, and preventing its corruption in a far superior manner to sugar. For many medicinal purposes honey is invaluable. To town residents who may be jaded and look careworn after the excitement of late hours, when the skin becomes dry, red and harsh-looking, try the effects of rubbing gently a thin coating of honey on the face before going to bed. It is one of the finest cosmetics in the world.

A Man's View on Kings.

"It is a constant surprise to me," said a man yesterday, "that a woman with a pinkish red head will call everybody's attention to it by hanging her fingers with sparkling rings. A certain intuitive vanity that is common to so many women, and which ought to teach her better. Fingers, big knuckles, and ugly or ill-kept nails are all accounted by showy rings. I've seen a woman whose rough, red hand must be her ever-present thorn in the flesh look at it with big diamonds, the white sparkle and gold setting of which intensified the redness and coarseness of the fingers they encircled. I long to tell such a one to put her jewels at her throat, on her arms, in her hair, anywhere but on her hands. In contradiction to this I recall a woman of my acquaintance who has a small, brown hand, like a gypsy's. She has evidently studied its limitations, for she wears never more than one ring, and that always of odd design. I've seen her wear a black pearl sunk in dull silver, a hoop of carnelians or an old English ring of hammered gold, but she often wears a superb alexandrite that shows black in some lights and deep sea green in others. I always applaud her wisdom in choosing pearls, emeralds and diamonds or any conventional styles from her ring box."

A STARTLING CASE

IN WHICH A YOUNG GENTLEMAN OF BROCKVILLE DISTRICT FIGURES PROMINENTLY.

A MARVELLOUS RECORD WHICH IS OF THE GREATEST INTEREST TO ALL—NO ROMANCE, BUT SIMPLY SOLID FACTS THAT WILL BEAR THE FULLEST INVESTIGATION.

A. N. Norton, aged 17, lives with his parents on lot 24 in the 7th concession of the township of Elizabethtown, near the village of New Dublin, twelve miles from the town of Brockville. His father is one of the most prosperous farmers in that vicinity and was enabled to give his son all the advantages that money could procure. The boy was naturally bright, gifted with a good memory and a fondness for knowledge that, promoted by application, gave him a foremost place in his class. He was, however, pre-occupied from regular attendance at school much to his own and his parents' disappointment, because of a very painful disease. For six years he was afflicted with that most distressing of all nerve diseases, chorea, or St. Vitus dance. For weeks at a time he was confined to the house suffering untold misery. His disease was characterized by twitching of the muscles of the neck, arms and legs. His head was at times drawn backward. His gait was irregular and he walked with difficulty. Appetite very irregular and he had no desire for food. Altogether he became physically a wreck and all hope of his recovery was abandoned by his parents. During all these years he was under the care of a prominent physician who exhausted all orthodox remedies without success. His father had a trial of the Golden Pills, but like most others had little faith in advertised remedies. He consulted the attending physician as to whether he should give his son a trial of the Golden Pills, but he had no other remedy to advise resort to patent medicines he was honorable enough to allow their trial. The parents were anxious to see their having failed, if Golden Pills did not cure he would be in no worse condition. On the strength of this cold approval, the father purchased a box of Butler's Golden Pills and placed his boy under treatment, taking one pill after each meal. He had only taken them for a few days when he was surprised to find that the suffering young man's appetite improved wonderfully, and he could sleep throughout the entire night. The latter was a blessing he had long desired for six years. The use of the pills was continued for three weeks, two boxes (or one dollar's worth) being used. At the end of the third week the severe nervous spasms had ceased, he had gained in flesh, his strength returned, and he was able to assist in the fields and do chores around the house. The parents were astonished at the remarkable change in his condition, as he was himself, and friends who called could scarcely believe that the young man who had now acquired such excellent health, was he who was prostrated a few weeks before. They give Dr. Butler's Golden Pills all the credit for the cure, and claim that but for their timely use restoration to health could have never been effected.

The magical curative properties of Butler's Golden Pills is not confined to St. Vitus dance only; they are equally efficacious in all diseases dependent on a vitiated condition of the blood and nerves, as nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Paralysis, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Locomotor Ataxia and all forms of Female Weakness, Suppression, Irregularities, and the many ills that attend women at change of life. All these diseases, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh of the Throat or Stomach, Impotent Consumption and Chronic Erysipelas.

These pills were formulated by a most distinguished practitioner, after years of trial and study. They are recognized as one of the most potent and effectual preparations for the cure of nerve and blood diseases. They are offered to the public at a price that makes a course of treatment unexpensive. Never sold in bulk; always in packages wrapped in trade mark. No other remedy possesses such magical properties. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. They can be had at all druggists or by mail from Dr. Butler Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

To Farmers and Stockmen

It is not generally known that the use of common salt for horses, cows, sheep and hogs is injurious to them, but such, however, is the fact. Their nature requires only so much salt as will be absorbed by the saliva. By the ordinary method of salting more or less of the loose salt is carried undissolved into the stomach, causing irritation to the membranes and coating. In many well authenticated instances the death of sheep and attacks of colic and other difficulties in horses and cows have been traced to this cause. It is very desirable, therefore, that some method of salting stock be employed. Any stock will do 20 per cent. better by using our ROCK SALT; they do not have that terrible thirsting for water caused by using common salt, which contains large quantities of lime and magnesia.

READ.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The building of our beautiful new church seems to have given a boom to the matrimonial market in this section of country. On Monday, 17th inst., the first marriage took place in the new church, when Mr. Edward O'Reilly of Deseronto, formerly of this place, was married to Miss Maggie Naphin, youngest daughter of the late David Naphin, of the 8th concession of Tyndinadga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McCarthy. Miss Mesher, of Deseronto, was bridesmaid, and Mr. John Hart, of Deseronto, was best man.

Last Sunday Mr. Thomas Corrigan, youngest son of the late Mr. Thomas Corrigan, was married to Miss Annie Hart, eldest daughter of Mr. Michael Hart. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McCarthy. Miss Nancy Corrigan was bridesmaid and Mr. John Hart was groomsmen.

A large number of guests assembled at the residence of the bride's father and took dinner. The wedding presents were numerous, costly and of great variety.

The evening of the wedding, one hundred guests accepted the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Hart and tripped the light fantastic to the choicest music. With their hosts of friends we wish the happy couple every happiness.

Work at the yard of the Cleveland Ship-building Co., is progressing rapidly on two large freight steamers, and a small army of men is now engaged working full time.

In speaking about the recent and founding of the largest steamer Western Reserve, on Lake Superior, such occurrences though rare on the lakes are very common on the ocean.

In the case of the steamer President, lost in 1841; the City of Glasgow, with 480 passengers in 1854; the City of Boston in 1870 with 200 persons on board, and during forty years out of 144 cargo steamers which have been lost, 24 were supposed to have foundered in a similar manner.

The city of Cleveland is the largest ship-building port in the United States, and comes next to the yards of the Clyde, which can accommodate at one time 145 vessels employing 10,000 men. Last year they built twenty-five vessels aggregating 10,000 tons.

What shipments from Duluth have been and still are very large. A big share of the traffic is being carried by the whale-back fleet.

The steamer Majestic made the round trip from Duluth to Buffalo, loaded with wheat and coal and, in nine days eleven hours.

The Erie liner J. J. Jewett reported rough weather on Lake Michigan, and her forward deck houses suffered somewhat from the heavy seas.

In the United States shipyards alone there are now under construction forty-two vessels at an estimated cost of $7,375,000, and the Canadian contracts amount to another million dollars, noticeable among which is a new steel-hulled steamer for Thomas Marks & Co., of Port Arthur.

A new fishing cruiser is now being built at the yards of the Polaris Iron Works at Owen Sound for $45,000, to be completed Dec. 1, 1892.

The tonnage passing through the locks of the St. Lawrence, Marie canal has increased from 2,029,000 tons in 1882 to 2,041,000 tons in 1890. The annual average net tonnage for the last five years of the St. Lawrence, the world's channel of commerce, was 2,041,000 tons, while that of this canal, open only 228 days in the year, is 8,000,000 tons.

The registered tonnage of the lakes, June 30th, 1891, was 1,151,870 tons—1,592 steam vessels and 2,008 sail.

The tonnage has more than doubled in the last five years, the increase being almost exclusively in steel steamships of 1,500 to 2,500 tons register.

At Cleveland, for the year ending June 30th, 1891, over 100 vessels were built at a cost of $7,311,000.

Of the total of the United States tonnage launched in 1890 46 per cent, was on the Great Lakes, 10 per cent on the Atlantic coast, 8 per cent on the Pacific coast, 5 per cent on the western rivers.

DESERONTO DEFEATS PICTON.

The Deseronto Association Football Club played its first match of the season on Saturday afternoon, with the Picton High School boys, before a large number of spectators. The following composed the home club:

Goal, Solmes; backs, Reid and Leggett; half-backs, Jamieson, Edwards, Crook; forwards, Day, E. Gaulin, J. Gaulin, Stafford, Scumby.

As the clubs lined up it was quite evident that the Deseronto boys were the strongest and heaviest, but the Picton boys made up in science and activity, obtained by constant practice since last spring, so that they were very evenly matched. The home team won the toss for choice of ends and elected to kick with the wind. Game was called at 2:35, with Principal Cole as referee. The home team soon started the sphere down to their opponents' defence, where, after about fifteen minutes' hard play, they scored amid loud applause. The ball was again kicked off and was kept around the visitors' goal for about twenty minutes, when, after some very interesting and heavy playing, the Deseronto boys scored their first goal. At half time the goals were changed, Picton kicking with the wind. This half was, if anything, more exciting than the former, and after twenty minutes' hard work Picton scored its first and only goal, in which they were materially assisted by the fact that one of the home team had taken a "back seat" within a few feet of the goal.

The game throughout was very interesting, and proved that with plenty of practice the home team need not take a "back seat" from any team in this district; it also showed that the visitors had made good use of their time during practice.

KICKS.

The Deseronto club play with the Napanee club here on this coming Saturday, and an exciting game is anticipated, as the Napanee club are working hard and intend to win if possible.

In Saturday's match the boys all covered themselves in glory, but the Deseronto boys, Day and Reid particularly distinguished themselves by their excellent work.

Picton is talking of having a football tournament, in which clubs from Deseronto, Belleville, Deseronto and Trenton are likely to participate.

SALVATION ARMY NOTES.

Staff Capt. Bolton who has been in charge of the Prison Gate Home, is now divisional officer for Kingston division. He will leave Deseronto on Friday and will be assisted by Capt. Cameron, of Napanee. All are welcome. A converted Frenchman will address the meeting on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 24.

The Salvation Army universal week of prayer, a "soft-line" will be from Sunday, Nov. 28, to Sunday, Dec. 4, 1892. They expect to raise $20,000. To be devoted as follows: $5,000 to assist sick and poor officers; $5,000 to clear off debt and poor officers; $5,000 to assist the French work in Quebec; $2,500 to be used in training officers; $2,000 for the extension of the S. A. in Canada; $5,000 towards new houses, private homes and children's shelter. The following gentlemen have by letter to Commandant Booth expressed sympathy and approval of the scheme: "The Attorney-General, Sir Oliver Mowat; Principal Grant, of Kingston; Rev. George J. Bishop, President Methodist Conference; H. S. Blake, Esq., Q. C.; Dr. Whitworth, editor of the Methodist Magazine; Dr. B. D. Thomas, of the Baptists; Dr. Hugh Johnston, Dr. William Briggs, of the Presbyterians; and the Presbyterian Council held in Toronto."

"You are, sir," answered the man with an affable smile.

"Pardon my intrusion," said the caller, in the same respectful manner, "and the familiarity with which I address you; but you spell your name S-m-y-t-h-e, do you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"For your initials, I think I am correct in saying are S. M. Y."

"That is correct."

"Thank you, Mr. Smythe. My name is Higgins—if I g-g-g-a-s—Higgins. I am glad to meet you, Mr. Smythe, after having made several previous attempts, without success to make your acquaintance. I have the honor," he continued, briefly and taking a bundle of papers from his pocket, "to be the collector for the firm of Spotsch & Co., dealers in dry goods and general merchandise. It is a convenient, Mr. Smythe, you will oblige me very much by settling a little bill of 75 cents that has been running for some time. I have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant, J. ## AN ENEMY FOILED.

A STARTLING REJOINDER OF A DETERMINED ASSAULT.

ON A MOST ESTIMABLE LADY—A FACT THAT SHOULD BE KNOWN BY EVERYBODY—CAUSE FOR ALARM UNLESS PROMPT ACTION IS TAKEN.

Could those who walked this earth fifty years ago reappear in the flesh but for a transient visit to the scenes of their earthly existence, what surprise and delight would await them. The world would discover that genius has evolved for the benefit of the race would puzzle and astonish them. In no one way has greater benefit been done to the people of the present day than in the manner of perfect remedial agents for the cure of diseases. Following rapidly on the cure of the young man Norton, who had suffered for years from St. Vitus dance, the use of two boxes of Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, comes the more astounding results of their use in the case of Mrs. H. Cooper, of Springfield, Mo., a sufferer from nervous prostration. Her life was despaired of and whose story as related to a Times reporter is better told in her own words. "Up to within two years ago I enjoyed the best of health. Although living in a country in which malaria abounds, I never was a chronic sufferer from it. The ordinary dose of the specific Quinine usually dispelled the symptoms and I had better health than many of my neighbors. About two years ago I began to feel that my health was made by a gradual decline of my appetite. In a short time I did not eat one good meal in three days. My nervous vitality sustained me for some time, but I gradually lost flesh. The doctor was called in one of the oldest practitioners in our town, prescribed the severest medicine, but I gained no strength brought on finally that most dreaded of all diseases nervous prostration. Having read that our lunatic asylums are mainly recruited from those afflicted from this dire disease added to my terror. My whole nervous system seemed to be in a state of utter collapse. I was unable to move and would have frequent fits of crying without any apparent reason. There were times when it was impossible for me to raise my arm to my head, and I began to despair of ever getting strong again. My husband suggested that I come north during the hot weather and visit my friends on the St. Lawrence. I did not think I could live through the trip, but remembrance that I was no invalid. I was packed off in a half dozen and alive and well. I had once advised to try Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, and more to please my friends than from any faith in them I began their use, one each meal, though my doctor disapproved. Two days could only by courtesy be called a most constant of a little weak tea and crackers, which served all my needs for food. After the fourth day my appetite improved and I longed for meat time to come around when I could discuss a piece of steak or chicken with great relish. A bare denied me for a very long time. I gradually grew stronger and increased in weight. I weighed 97 1/2 lbs. when I arrived and in less than four weeks weighed 108 pounds. I continued to take Golden Pills with regularity during six weeks and I now feel well, cheerful and happy. I can most sincerely recommend Dr. Butler's Golden Pills to anyone suffering from nervous exhaustion and general debility. In my case they appeared to possess the power of removing a fit by magic. My tired, worn-out feeling, replacing by despondency with cheerful vigor and restoring my long lost health. I think I would be derelict in my duty did I not make my cure public.

The magic curative properties of Butler's Golden Pills is not confined to St. Vitus dance and nervous prostration only; they are efficacious in all cases of nervous and vitiated condition of the blood and nerves as Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Locomotor Ataxia and all forms of female weakness, Suppression, Irregularities, and the many ills that attend women, at the change of life, all Blood Disorders, Salt Rheum, Catarrh of the Throat or Stomach, Impaired Consumption, Erysipelas.

These pills were recommended by a most distinguished practitioner, after years of trial and study. They are recommended as one of the most potent and effectual preparations for the cure of nervous and blood diseases. They are offered to the public at a price that makes a course of treatment inexpensive. Never sold in bulk; always in packages marked in trade name. No other remedy possesses such magical properties. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, sent by mail from Dr. Butler's Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Dr. Butler's Golden Pills have earned a great fame wherever they are used. As a nerve tonic and blood builder they are unrivaled. They increase the appetite and promote a healthy performance of all the functions of the body. Their thorough scientific preparation, they never fail to effect a cure if directions are faithfully complied with. Nothing harmful in their composition. The most delicate system will be benefited. Ask for Dr. Butler's Golden Pills and take no other.

DOWER CASE.

One of the most important dower cases ever tried in Belleville came off at the assizes. After the evidence had been given Judge directed Mr. W. C. McKel, acting for plaintiff, and W. H. R. Allison, Q. C., of the bar for the defence, to sit in a written argument. It appears that over 22 years ago the late Samuel Sprague, husband of the plaintiff, gave three mortgages on lot 40, of the 3rd concession of Township 20, Range 10, East of the 4th meridian, to John Edward. In the second one the plaintiff barred her dower but in the first and third she did not. Her husband's estate was sold under sheriff's sale in 1873, and she now claims dower out of the property—which is one of the most valuable farms in Prince Edward County, and is situated in the 2nd concession of Township 20, Range 10, East of the 4th meridian. The case was held over for argument at Toronto.

MORE VALUABLE THAN DIAMONDS.

Cod liver Oil from the cod fish when combined with hygienic food and sunshine, as in "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," will build up the cellular tissues and create new blood. This is just what consumptive patients need. It has cured thousands of people who would otherwise have been at this time occupying narrow spaces in one country graveyards. Miller's Emulsion is worth a trial. In big bottles, 50c and $1, at all Drug Stores.

It is on human and all animals cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. Sold by W. G. EGAR.

SLAVIN'S INDIFFERENCE.

James Slavin, who is to pay the penalty of a few weeks in the County Jail, still maintains an appearance of perfect indifference as to his fate. He refers to his approaching execution with the sign of fear and firmly adheres to his determination to refuse the ministrations and counsel of the clergy. He talks very much with his guards of his past career but expresses little or no regret for his misdeeds. He is closely guarded day and night, but is allowed to spend the day in general work. He is not allowed to make another attempt to escape, a guard being always with him. The prisoner sleeps with a few books. He has been provided with a new book which he has asked for writing material, which will probably be given to him.

THE C. M. B. A. CONVENTION.

The Supreme Council of the C. M. B. A. at its recent meeting at Montreal, decided to grant the Canadian Grand Council separate jurisdiction. The decision was in accordance with the recommendation of the conference held at Quebec, at which time Rev. Father Bart, Montreal, said that they considered it absolutely necessary to grant the Canadian Council application for separate jurisdiction. The Canadian Council, while still retaining all fraternal relations with the United States as heretofore, a motion was also adopted by 33 votes to 2. It was decided to hold the next convention at Philadelphia two years hence. A motion was also adopted by 33 votes to 2. It was decided to hold the next convention at Philadelphia two years hence. ## ERIC AIN IN THE BLOOD.

Eric ain in the blood is the cause of nearly all disease. It visits every part of the body and is liable to fasten disease on any organ; the vitality of the kidneys is to extract waste from the blood; a cold will stop this action, a pain in the back follows, and unless relief is obtained, permanent inability of the kidneys to perform their functions follows. The recommendation in liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disease, dropsy, diabetes or Bright's disease. Dodd's Kidney Pills assist the kidneys to remove waste, and cure all complaints and results arising from same.

A YOUTH'S HUGE SOLE.

A. McNeir, shoemaker, recently turned out something unique in foot-wear. It was a No. 12 pair of boots, made for John Schell, McNab, but eighteen years of age. The measurements were, 12 inches around the ball of the foot, 12 1/2 inches around the heel, 11 1/2 inches around the ankle. The youth whose pedal extremities take up so much room is 6 feet 7 inches in height and weighs 215 pounds. This is the largest pair of boots Mr. McNeir has ever made. If the No. 261 young man is ever the father of daughters who are being courted against his will, the world may hear of the sad case of a young man being suddenly hit by the rear end and landed on the other side of Jordan.—Referee paper.

CHILDREN ENJOY.

The pleasant flavor, gentle action, and soothing effects of Syrup of Figs, when in need of a laxative, and if the child is either too constipated or bilious the most gratifying results follow its use, so that it is the best family remedy known and every family should have a bottle.

The Presidential election in the United States takes place on Nov. 8th.

A second crop of berries was found on a wild raspberry bush on Wolfe Island on the 20th inst.

The steamer North King makes her last trip this season to Charlotte on Sunday next, Oct. 30th.

There is a growing demand for Canadian hay in England. Shipments have been made from Kingston.

Mr. F. Hoag and Mr. Osler, of Kingston, rode to Deseronto on pneumatic wheels in three and a half hours.

Marshall Parks is removing his family to Napanee. His residence on Dundas street will be occupied by Hiram Parks.

Of the 789 patients in Kingston hospital last year only 154 paid anything and all of the 540 out-patients were treated free.

The presses and plant of the Napanee Standard office have been purchased by a party in London and were shipped last week.

The Rathbun Company are making extensive alterations to the old Caldwell mill yard, recently purchased by them, at Kingston.

Rev. Dr. Langtry, of Toronto, supports a scheme for two new dioceses of the Church of England to be known as the dioceses of Ottawa and Belleville.

After you have carefully written a communication for a newspaper, go over it carefully, correct mistakes and hold it down to one-fourth of its length.

The Rathbun Company has a large force of men engaged at Arden making repairs on their works at that point preparatory to extensive lumber operations during the coming winter.

Our Read correspondent gives particulars concerning the marriage of Mr. Edward O'Reilly, of this town, to Miss Maggie Naphin, of Read. THE TRIBUNE extends congratulations.

Thomas Reid sold part of his property on First street, Ganarong, to the Rathbun Company. The rocky formation is of excellent granite and it is the intention of the company to open up a quarry.

The case of Thos. Dunn, against whom a true bill was found for rape upon a mute girl, was laid over until the spring assizes. The cases of Stephen and Elizabeth Simmons charged with arson were postponed until the next general sessions of the peace, both being bailed.

It is now possible to hold conversation by telephone between New York and Chicago, a distance of 900 miles. A heavier wire is needed for long distance talking and that is all. Expert electricians say there is practically no distance limit to the successful operations of the telephone.

Her Majesty Queen Victoria and Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone have, through the secretary of state, acknowledged receipt of petitions and letters from Canada for recognition of services during the rebellion of 1857. The queen has placed them in the hands of her responsible advisers.

Mr. S. Galbraith, late of St. Catharines, has opened his photographic studio in the Geddis block, and already expresses himself well satisfied with his prospects. He shows a large number of life views, the evidence artistic work and is confident that he will prove worthy of public support. He invites inspection of his pictures.

Capt. Johnston, of the steamer Hero, says there is an unusual crop of apples in Prince Edward county this year. The steamer Hero will transport at least 4,000 barrels, and steamer Alexandria expects to load 20,000 barrels before the close of the season. The shipments are to Sherbrooke and Boston.

Mr. Cornelius Benson, an old resident of Southampton, expired very suddenly on the 15th inst. Deceased had been in his usual health, having attended the show at Deseronto on the Thursday previous. Heart failure was, no doubt, the cause. He was a man of retiring disposition and highly respected.

It is well to know that poison ivy can be cured by an application of wood lye. A wood saw in a bag and boil a few moments. Dilute so that it will not be too harsh, yet leave it quite strong. Paint with wash off with soft tepid water and anoint with vasoline. Repeat two or three times or till a cure is effected.

The new Victoria college at Toronto was formally dedicated on Tuesday. Rev. Dr. Carman presided at the opening services, and speeches were delivered by several prominent men. The incident of the day was the announcement by Dr. Fates that he had received a check for $40,000 from Mr. H. A. Massey to be used in the endowment of a chair in theology in the new college.

Condensed milk is one of the new openings for Canadian industry. Last year England imported condensed milk to the value of over four million dollars, and the trade is increasing. There is only one condensed milk factory in Canada, that at Truro, N.S. Those factories are said to pay the farmers better than cheese factories. Deseronto would be an excellent location for such an industry.

Keep a look out for this counterfeited American five dollar note, which may be its way into Canada one of these days. It is the 1890 series and is numbered A 224, 455,700. It has the vignette of Jackson and is a very bad imitation. The paper and engraving of the front are bad. The threads are imitated by creases in the paper. The reverse side of the note is very good. The counterfeited was discovered by the receiving teller at the Continental National Bank in Baltimore recently.

The first Methodist preacher to work in Kingston was Rev. William Losee, arriving in 1790. Rev. Darine Dunham joined him a year later. They were both Methodists. The British Methodists made a beginning in Kingston in 1817 and withdrew in 1820, after an agreement with the Methodist Episcopal, but returned in 1832 and made another union with the M.E.W., but dissolved it again in 1836. It was at this juncture the Wesleyan church of Canada was formed.
